

Cheryl Bryan is a member of the Barnstable County Master Gardeners program. She is a past President, has been active in the Children's Garden located in Brewster, the Speaker's Bureau and the Mentoring programs. She was delighted to learn that the lessons she learned as a child following her father in the family garden were backed up by the science-based approach of the Master Gardening program. Her current gardening interests are roses, increasing native plants on her property, a salad garden in raised beds, and nurturing the shrubs, trees and flower beds around her home in Orleans.
